HUMANE SOCIETY'S ANNUAL

Was Held at the Warwick Last Evening.

President Fluhner's Address—The Work of the Year.

The annual meeting of the Humane society was held in the parlors of the Warwick last night. In the main corridor were copies of the works of noted animal painters and numerous sketches and articles pertaining to the brute creation. About sixty members of the society were present.

The evening's program was opened by a harp solo by Miss Maude Hughes. Miss Eliza Wilson gave a recitation, and Dr. Freeman sang "Mary, Go Call the Cattle Home." Miss Helen Gray gave a recitation, and the treasurer, J. W. Rosenthal's report was read.

The report showed that the receipts for the year amounted to $753.93; amount on hand at beginning of year, $12.55; total amount, $766.48; disbursements, $729.54; balance on hand, $139.97.

The Year's Work.

A. C. Torrey, the secretary, read his annual report, a synopsis of which is as follows: The new society was organized March 10, 1922. During the past thirteen months seventeen horses have been killed, nineteen ordered shot, eighty-five blackened on the streets, thirty-eight ordered off the streets, eight sent to glue factory; four dogs and cats killed; six persons reprimanded for keeping filthy stables; five for jerking horses; twenty-four for whipping and kicking horses; sixty-five for cruelty and neglect; four for abusing guests; seventy-nine teams have been doubled; thirteen loads lightened; twenty-five harnesses adjusted; seven overcoats let out; nineteen runaway caught; twenty-four fallen horses assisted; eleven drivers reported for abuse; nine cases of fast driving stopped; four dog fights stopped; fourteen arrests for cruelty; eleven convictions for the same; fifteen cases investigated; 126 other cases, a total of 642.

Directors Elected.

Most of this has been accomplished through the efforts of Humane Agent E. H. Randolph.

During the past year five members have died—L. E. Alster, John Mohrhard, S. F. Aspinwall, G. F. Whitfield and Mrs. Eliza Sligh. The report closed with a list of donations during the first year.

The president, the Rev. Charles Fluhner, then made his annual address, reviewing the work of the society, and outlining plans for the future. Dr. Fluhner thought the work of the society should be extended to cruelty to children and active means taken to punish all offenders.

A board of directors was elected as follows: The Rev. Charles Fluhner, J. W. Rosenthal, A. C. Torrey, J. W. A. D. Rathbone, Mrs. W. T. Lamoreaux and Mrs. J. C. McKee.

AFTER A VERY TOUGH GANG.

Judge Haggerty Severe on Certain West Side Toughs.

Of late police court has had little excitement during its morning session, but there was a change yesterday, and the whole morning was occupied in disposing of the cases. There were a half dozen poor, dejected looking drunks to head the procession, and then came Max Kennedy, a rather tough looking fellow from the sixth ward. He was charged with breach of the peace. According to his story he got into a fight in Goetz brewery a few evenings ago with Charles Bissonette and Dennis Pickle. Mr. Goetz kicked them all out of his place and the fight continued on the street until the police arrived. Bissonette did not put in an appearance at the morning session, but Kennedy told such a crooked story in his own defense that he convinced the judge of his guilt. He was helped largely in the accomplishment of this task by his attorney, J. T. Haggerty, who insisted on giving most of the testimony.

Judge Haggerty said he did not wish to sentence Kennedy until he heard Bissonette's story, and the case went over till the afternoon session. At 3 o'clock the court resumed its session. Assistant City Attorney Carroll was not present. After considerable skirmishing he was found, but was not ready to proceed to trial. The court then called Kennedy up and told him he was a very tough young member of a very tough gang, which he proposed to treat severely. He then sentenced Kennedy to $15 fine or sixty days in jail. The case may be appealed.

Veronica Chapman coyly told the judge in a confidential whisper that she could be heard across the room that she did take $5 from Fred Smith. While she was waiting her turn to be called before the court for sentence she begged the time trying to flirt with Bailiff Holmes and by quarreling with a tough-looking sixth warder called "Brick." Veronica said "Brick" had called her a bad name and called on Bailiff Holmes for protection. "If ye don't cut that name 'Brick' out of yer head for ye, me!" said Veronica in a hoarse whisper. "If ye was a man at all ye'd not do it, and if ye don't dunt it, punch yer head, an' dunt yer forehead!" "Brick" was about to make a reply when the rap of Bailiff Holmes' gavel quieted them both. Veronica was told by the judge that she was an exceedingly useless piece of the community, and that she was as useless to herself as to the rest of mankind. He would, therefore, place her where she would be safe for the next sixty days. Veronica was not at all cast down, but took the sentence with the air of a philosopher who rises above the joys and sorrows of the world. As she resumed her seat in the prisoner's dock the comforted Anna for Kist by telling her that she would probably get a heavier dose. Anna is a very red cheeked Holland girl who is troubled with an "itching palm" for other person's property. She is charged with stealing money from her employer, Peter Klingberg, on Grandview avenue. Anna went quarts of tears and protested that she was innocent. She will be given an opportunity to prove her innocence today.

Nothing to Be Desired

Every Flavor made by Dr. Price has the peculiar taste characteristic of the fruit from which it is obtained, and imparts to cakes, puddings, sauces or creams such a delicious and grateful flavor that their use really leaves nothing to be desired. We have yet to see the housewife who has used Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts of Lemon, Orange, Nectarine or Vanilla, who was not delighted with them. THE PURITY OF DR. PRICE'S FLAVORS is endorsed by the leading chemists and heads of the great universities of this continent.

Sylvester Womaki, charged with stealing liquor, waived examination and was held for trial. Joe Pathan, charged with larceny, and admitted he had stolen a box of chewing gum from E. A. Brooks' wagon. He was fined $5 and costs.

WILL BANQUET ROYALLY.

The Lincoln Republican Club Will Be Active All the Year.

The Lincoln Republican club was out in force last night and took steps to guide it in the future. The meeting was called to order by C. W. Watkins. The secretary read a report from the committee appointed to make a recommendation for the club's future. The committee reported that it had seen most of the prominent republicans of the city and that notwithstanding the national results they were all found cheerful and hopeful. It recommended that the present club rooms be retained and that meetings be held at least once a month, and that the work of educating the people be so well done that they will not again be deceived. It was also recommended that a banquet be held on Lincoln's birthday.

The report was taken up section by section. The club decided to retain the present rooms, fit up the front portion of the hall for parlors and to submit the plan to other organizations. The date of the banquet will not be fixed until the committee on speakers, of which General Cutcheon is chairman, makes a report.

The president and secretary were authorized to take steps to have the club properly incorporated. The permanent meeting night of the club was fixed for the third Tuesday evening of the month. The first meeting will be held two weeks from next Tuesday. The committee on rooms was instructed to get an estimate of the cost of partitioning off parlors and fitting them up and report at the next meeting. It is proposed to have some of the best republican speakers in the county present at the banquet. The glee club which served during the campaign will also be present and furnish the musical part of the program.

SALVATION ARMY PARADE.

Many Nations Represented at Last Night's Meeting.

Last night was held the "international meeting" of the Salvation Army corps. The resources of the army were set forth in the past parade which was the principal feature. First came two mounted marshals, next the American and Salvation Army flags, the women officers, Major Cousins and Adjutant Harrgrave, the band, a large Columbian float surmounted by a goddess of liberty. Then followed Eastern Indians, Japanese, Chinese, Turks, the field officers, a representation of Ireland and of Canada, Wales, Scotland, Africa, Switzerland, Holland and the Salvation Army navy, represented by a full rigged yacht.

Arrived at the barracks, the characters made a motley assembly on the platform. After the usual opening, Major Cousins gave talks respecting the different nationalities, showing that although the army was alleged to be all English, but one-third of its American membership is English and that 72 per cent of the officers are American born. The anniversary jubilee closes today.

TOOK ANOTHER RECESS.

Board of Canners Waits for Re-count Committee.

The board of canvassers held a short session yesterday. C. M. Hyde of Plainfield was appointed to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Inspector Laubach. The board then took a recess until Wednesday, December 14, at which time it is expected the committee on the congressional recount will be ready to report.

The recount committee after having worked all day adjourned until this morning, but not before they had found enough errors to give Balknap a gain of seven votes. The thirty-second precinct of the seventh ward gave Balknap a gain of five votes, the first precinct of the eighth ward gave him two more.

Politicians Dined Together.

Two or three politicians were gathered together in the Morton last night, but it was not necessarily in anybody's name. Neal McMillan invited the party and the occasion was very much surprised to find S. S. Olds in the city.

Both of them were overcome with astonishment to meet Stanley W. Turner, auditor general-elect, in the corridor. Then Ed Maynard dropped in, and Fred Barnard happened along. Broke of Kalamazoo ran up on private business and S. Weselous wandered in the hostelry. Finally Phil B. Wachtel of Petoskey, ex-speaker of the house, came along and the whole aggregation was so glad to see him that Neal McMillan invited them all to dinner.

The rest of them ate Mr. McMillan's dinner, and swore that there was no politics there. They talked about the good old old days when Broke of Kalamazoo ran for legislature, and wound up the spread by assuring him that he was no longer in it.

The Rev. J. W. Arney of Lake Odessa, the horse trotting person, is a guest at the Eagle. "I've given up my string of horses and left the Methodist church," said the person. "I am pastor of the Congregational church at Lake Odessa. We have a new church building that will be dedicated about Christmas time. I get enough salary so I can live and am just as orthodox as I ever was. I have sold my horses—not because I thought it wrong to keep them, but because I no longer need them to assist me in paying my debts. Now that their particular mission is over I feel that the demands of the ministry are greater. I never found anything in my Bible that said man should not own a trotting horse, but I have found statements concerning judgments passed upon fellow beings. I am on my way to Chicago where I shall conduct two weeks' revival and I hope to make it a success."

Another Secret Order.

A meeting of trustees was held at the Emerson Industrial home, corner of Labadie street and Jefferson avenue, yesterday afternoon. The new home, now well settled, is doing effective work. The patron's monthly report included many contributions of food, money and other necessities. The number of inmates has been increased. The plan to raise a $5,000 guaranty expense fund is meeting with a deserving patronage. It is designed that each donor knows where his money goes, how much he has to pay, what he has paid, etc.

It was decided to have reading or religious services at the home every Sunday afternoon, to which the public is invited. All pastors and laymen are requested to contribute their time and efforts. A committee was appointed to solicit a piece to be used at these meetings. A sign has now been placed on the building. The new year will find the home in better shape, largely through the efforts of Mrs. Perkins, the president, and the board of trustees.

To Succeed Raun.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—Col. William E. McLean of Terre Haute, whose name has been frequently mentioned as General Raun's successor in town, in an administration today he said that his name would be presented to President Cleveland for the office of commissioner of pensions by friends. #### That Stretch Failure.

DOWAGIAC, Dec. 6.—The extent of the stretch failure seems to be much greater than was at first supposed. The most recent estimates place the liabilities, including the chattel mortgages, at about $24,000. Thousands of dollars worth of goods were purchased during the past few months or four months which remain unpaid for. It surely is the worst failure the city has had for years.

A waste of flesh and a want of digestion. These go together. People who cannot assimilate the food they swallow must of necessity lose bodily substance. To remedy this, render digestion easy and thorough with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. A tonic famed the world over for its strength and high yielding qualities. Appetite and sleep are both improved by indication, which betters the quality of the blood and restores the vitality of the body. Indigestion, irregularity of the bowels and palpitation of the heart—the latter often being erroneously attributed to disease of the heart—all these manifestations disappear when the Bitters is resorted to. Malaria, rheumatism, liver and kidney troubles are directly counteracted by this superior corrective, which is not only effective, but permanent.
